VOL. CVXIIIL—63. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, SATURDAY, MARCH 15, 1913. PRICE, 2 CENTS

SUIT FOR MILLIONS TO BE HEARD HERE

Sale of Southern Building to be Contested in Circuit Court.

VALUED AT $2,000,000.

Sensational Hearing Over Affairs of Two Big Insurance Companies to be Renewed in Alexandria.

The sensational hearing in Washington before a special committee of Congress appointed to examine into the condition of the Commercial Fire Insurance Company and the First National Insurance Compan yand their purchase o fthe Southern Building, the big office building at the corner of 15th and H streets, in Washington, is to be transferred to Alexandria. It was the purchase of this building and the boosting of its value up to $2,000,000 by the insurance department of the district that was largely responsible for the investigation.

In the Circuit Court a suit was brought this morning by Chas. Hall Davis, of Petersburg, and Sale, Mann and Tyler, of Richmond, attorneys for Robert Jemison, Jr., John L. Kaul, Culpeper Exum and Margaret S. Rhodes executrix of Rufus M. Rhodes to declare fraudulent the sale and conveyance of the Southern Building to the Comercial Fire Insurance Company and the First National Fire Insurance of the United States

The suit is instituted in the Alexandria Court because of the fact that the Southern Building Corporation, who were the original owners of the building, is a Virginia Corporation.

The suit is instituted against the Commercial Fire Insurance Co., the First National Fire Insurance Co., The Southern Building Corporation, Charles F. Carusi, William F. Thyson, Charles A. Douglas, James B. Archer, John L. Cassin, and Charles R. Hooff, the last six of whom are directors of the Southern Building Corporation; the Richmond Realty Corporation the United States Trust Company, Charles F. Carusi Robert N. Harper, J. M. Baker, R. H. McNeill, J. L. Karrick and Charles A. Douglas.

Subpoeanas for the above named defendants will be issued returnable to the first day of the April term of the Circuit Court.

In their bill the complainants ask that the Southern Building and the lot on which it stands be reconveyed to the building corporation, that the insurance companies be enjoined and restrained from disposing of or encumbering the real estate; that a receiver be appointed for the Southern Building Corporation; that the building be sold under the jurisdicton of the court; that the outstanding bonds and stock of the corporation be determined; that $25,000 preferred and $25,00 common stock issued to J. M. Baker, R. H. McNeill, J. L. Karrick and Chas. A. Douglas issued without consideration to said parties be cancalled; that $75,00 preferred and $75,00 common stock issued to said Baker McNeill, Karrick and Douglas while directors of said Corporation be canceled and also that certain mortgage bonds and stock held by the Richmon RealtyCompany or the two insurance companies to be either cancelled or the holders required to pay par value therefor; to protect and enforce in all other respects the rights and interests of the complainants and all other minority stock holders of the Southern Building Corporation who ar similarly situated.

Gardner L. Boothe will represent the Southern Building Corporation.

BUMPER CROPS EXPETED.

Result of Truck Season Now Depends Upon Weather.

Norfolk, Va., March 15.—Bumper crops in Norfolk county and vicinity this season depends entirely on the weather from now until early summer, according to planters. A heavy frost may destroy much of the work accomplished through the early spring.

The heaviest crop of potatoes ever put in the ground has been planted this year.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Returning from the home of a priest where she had gone to make arrangements to be confirmed next Sunday, Catherine Palmer, 14 years old, of Trenton, N. J., was attacked by a man believed to be an Italian section hand. She was found today in the road near Trenton Junction. She was so seriously injured that she cannot live, it is said. The attack upon her was similar to that recently on Luella E. Marshall, of Trenton, who died without being able to describe her assailant. The child has been able to tell little of the assault. A man, she says, who looked like an Italian sprang upon her from behind a tree and seized her. The girl struggled desperately, and the man, enraged by her resistance, used great violence to subdue her. The girl's body was a great mass of bruises and three fingers on one hand had been broken in the struggle.

State troops were sent to Salem, Ill., last night by Governor E. F. Dunne, to aid in the quelling of a mob that surrounded the jail and threatened to lynch Frank Sullens, white, who is held on a charge of attacking Dorothy Holt, 14 years old, daughter of Judge Charles Holt. The victim of the attack was on her way home from a moving picture show Thursday night, when a man seized her by the throat, gagged her with a handkerchief and dragged her a mile and a half out of town in a slaughter house. The girl lost consciousness and remained in the slaughter pens until yesterday. She finally regained her senses and walked home. She is in a serious condition. Sullens was arrested yesterday afternoon. It is said he admitted he dragged the girl to the slaughter pens, but did so for another man who promised him $5 and a drink of whiskey. The girl said she saw no one but Sullens.

Louis Simpson a wealthy man from the west, who in the last year purchased a waterside farm in St. Mary's County, Md., and had just completed the erection of a residence on his land, was killed by lightning early yesterday morning, while riding for his mail from his home, near Forest Wharf on the Patuxent. Mr. Simpson was caught in a storm while it was at its height. After the storm had subsided Robert Curtis, colored, found the bodies of Mr. Simpson and his horse lying in the road. Both were seared by the fatal bolt.

While trying to fish in the Scioto River at Lancaster, O., by attaching a wire to the "third rail" of the Scioto Valley Traction Company, Dudley Carpenter and David Bobbitt were electrocuted some time Thursday night. The fish they sought were unharmed as far as is known. The bodies of the two men were found early yesterday at the place where the wire connections had been made, extending into the river. Bobbitt leaves a widow and seven children. Carpenter was unmarried.

New York, March 15.—The Hawthorne mining trial, which has dragd along nearly four months before a jury in the federal court in New York, came to a close yesterday with the conviction of three of the defendants, Julian Hawthrone, Dr. William J. Morton, and Albert Freeman, and the acquittal of Josiah Quincy, twice mayor of Boston and Assistant Secretary of the State during the Cleveland administration. The convicted men were given short terms in the penitentiary.

Hoow Horn Bear, tribal chief of the Sioux Indians, died early today in the Providence Hospital, in Washington. Three dags ago the aged chief was stricken with pneumonia which resulted from a cold contracted during the inaugural parade.

NO PREACHER AT FUNERAL.

Interment Without Ceremony, According to Man's Dying Request.

Winchester, Va., March 15.—In compliance with a dying request made by H. W. Pittman, member of a pioneer Frederick county family, whose death occurred near Marlboro on Monday, on clergyman officiated at his funeral. His body laid in a plain black casket, was taken from the house to the family graveyard on the Pittman farm and interred, there being no ceremony of any character.

SOLEMN SEASON TO BE OBSERVED

Holy Week Commences Tomorrow With Celebration of Palm Sunday.

CHURCH PROGRAMS.

Three Episcopal Churches and St. Mary's Catholic Church Have Arranged Elaborate Services.

Services tomorrow at the three Episcopal churches and St. Mary's Catholic church will mark the beginning of the last week of Lent and the opening of a week of ceremonies unsurpassed in impressiveness by any others of the ecclesiastical year.

Tomorrow is known as Palm Sunday in commemoration of the triumphal entry of Christ into Jerusalem.

St. Mary's Church.

For the first time in a year, the Passion is read, the account being that by St. Matthew. Before the beginning of the high mass in this church the branches will be blessed and distributed.

The palm will be carried home by the congregation. Parts of it are formed into small bunches to serve as sprinklers for the holy water in case of sickness in the house hold and when the Holy Eucharist is administered to one confined by illness.

As a rule Catholics abandon all worldly pleasure during the coming six days, Holy Week, and either take part in the many church ceremonies or remain in prayer and meditation. Morning masses will be especially well attended and the night services will attract large crowds.

Holy Thursday morning there will be solemn high mass, at which an extra host will be consecrated. Following the mass the host will be carried from the main altar and placed in a repository, handsomely decorated to remain for 24 hours. The main altar is stripped and the tabernacle door left open. The church bells will be silenced.

On Holy Thursday at 8 o'clock there will be a sermon by Father Elliott, C. S. P. on the Eucharist.

Good Friday morning the Host will be brought back from the repository in a procession of priests, altar boys and other children. Mass of the presanctified will be said. Then the crucifixes which have been hidden from view with purple cloth for two weeks will be unveiled and the ceremony of veneration will take place. Services this day will start at 8 o'clock.

At 3:30 there will be a sermon on the Way of the Holy Cros sat 8 o'clock in the evening a sermon on the Passion by Father Elliott.

Holy Saturday the services will begin early in the morning, for they are unusually long. First fire is struck and the paschal candle lighted. The baptismal font is blessed and the altar decorations are restored. During the progress of the mass that follows the bells are rung again. Easter water is blessed and distributed.

The first service will be at 7 o'clock with high mass at 8 o'clock.

On Easter Sunday masses will be held at 7 o'clock and at 10:30 with solemn high mass and sermon at the evening services.

At 4 o'clock on Easter Sunday the collection will be for the seminarians of the Diocese of Richmond, Va.

The choir has been training for some time and on Easter Sunday the music will be excellent.

Christ Church.

Palm Sunday services and sermon tomorrow at 11 o'clock. Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m., Sunday school 9:30 a. m.; evening prayer and sermon 7:30 p. m. During Holy Week services every morning at 7:30 o'clock; Monday night at 8 o'clock, confirmation service by Bishop Robert A. Gibson; Holy Thursday, communion at 8 p. m.; Good Friday service and sermon on Friday at 11 o'clock. On Saturday Easter-even baptismal service at 5 p. m. Easter Sunday services as follows: 7:00 a. m., holy communion; 9:30 a. m., Sunday School; 11 a. m., morning prayer, sermon and holy communion; 4:30 p. m., children's Easter service.

The early services during Holy Week will begin promptly at 7 a. m. and will not exceed thirty minutes in length.

St. Paul's.

Palm Sunday services tomorrow at 11 a. m.; holy communion at 7:30 a. m., and evening service at 7:30 p. m. Monday, 4:30 p. m.; Tuesday, 4:30 p.m., and seven last words of Christ at 8:00 p. m., at which the oratorio and sacred cantata by Th. DuBois will be sung; Wednesday, 4:30 p. m; Thursday, holy communion at 8:00 p. m.; Good Friday service at 11 a. m.; Saturday, Easter-even baptism at 4:30 p. m.; Easter Sunday services will be as follows: Holy communion 7:30 a. m.; morning prayer and holy communion 11:00 a. m, Sunday school Easter festival 4:00 p. m.

Grace Episcopal Church.

Sunday services with sermon at 11:00 a. m., and 7:30 p. m., and holy communion at 7:30 a. m., tomorrow. Monday and Tuesday, service and addres at 5 p. m:. Wednesday, evening prayer and sermon by Rev. Dr. McGrew at 7:30 p. m.; Thursday holy communion at 7:30 a. m.; Good Friday, morning prayer and address at 10:30 a. m.; passion service 12:00 to 3:00 p. m.; evening prayer and address, 7:30 p. m. Saturday evening prayer and holy baptism at 5:00 p.m.

English Lutheran Church.

At tomorrow morning services at the English Immanuel Lutheran Church, corner of Cameron and Alfred streets at 11 o'clock there will be a reunion of all the confirmed. A special invitation is extended to all those who in years past have rendered the vow of allegiance. On Good Friday services, commemorating our Lord's Passion and death will be held in the evening at 8 o'clock. The regular services at this church are as follows: Every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Special German services every third Sunday in the month, in the evening at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Charles F. Brandt is the pactor.

COMPANY COMPLIES WITH LAW.

Suit is Dismissed by Request of District Official.

Having been advised through its attorney, Gardner L. Boothe, that the Washington Utilities Company has fully complied with the terms of the La Follette anti-merger bill, which was included in the District of Columbia appropriation bill, the Corporation Counsel has directed the dismissal of the suit filed in Washington by the District against against the Virginia corporation in November.

WANT LAW REPEALED.

On the ground that a large proportion of the land in Alexandria county is owned by the United States government and exempt from taxation, Virginia Senators and Representatives in Congress will be urged to secure the repeal of the law requiring payment of tuition by the children of Alexandria county who attend school in Washington.

A resolution to this effect drafted by W. T. Hodges, county superintendent of schools, has been passed by the Board of Supervisors and a committee of fifteen well-known residents of the county will present the same to the members of Congress.

The county authorities point out that the area of Alexandria county is very small, and much of its territory is occupied by Government reservations, such as Fort Myer, Arlington, etc., upon which no taxes are paid. The school revenues therefore suffer, and it is contended that the federal government should meet this loss by offering educational opportunities to the children of Alexandria county in the Washington schools.

INTERESTING LECTURE.

Mr. Eugene B. Taylor last night delivered an interesting and instructive address on foreign travel in the Norton Memorial Hall of St. Paul's Church. The audience greatly enjoyed the address.

Mr. Taylor has spent much of his life in Europe, having made his first visits to the old world when he was a boy. His acquaintance with London, Paris and Rome qualifies him for the role he assumed last night and his observations were listened to closely.

He carried his audience as far as the Eternal City last night and left them at an interesting point in his travels.

Mr. Taylor exhibited many pictures of objects of interest.

Mr. Taylor will doubtless be urged to continue his lectures at an early date.

At the close of the lecture refreshments were served all present.

EFFORTS TO BRING WAR TO A CLOSE

Sir Edward Grey Calls Informal Conference of Ambassadors.

EXORBITANT DEMANDS

Powers Will Not Consent to All Aegean Islands Being Taken From Turkish Government.

London, March 15.—An informal conference of the ambassadors of the powers was called for this afternoon at the foreign office by Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, to consider the reply of the Balkan allies to the power's offer to mediate in the war against Turkey.

It was generally admitted in diplomatic circles that the powers could not accede to the demands made by the allies. Opinion varied as to whether the allies demanded more than they expected to get and counted on a bargaining process or desired to prevent without actually refusing the offer of the greater nations.

The indemnity demands of the allies are regarded as exorbitant, while to fix the eastern boundary of ceded territory at Rodosto, as demanded by Bulgaria would bring the Bulgarian frontier down to the Sea of Marmora, cut off Gallipoli from Constantinople and weaken the Dardanelles as a defense of Turkey-in-Asia.

Also it is believed the powers will not consent to all the Aegean Islands being taken from Turkey, as the Greeks demand.

Advices from Vienna, Sofia and Constantinople today said that the allies were confident that Adrianople and Scutari would fall in a very short time. It is believed here that the allies have purposely made demands that the powers will contest in order to stave off a formal peace conference until Adrianople and Scutari have fallen. The Greeks already hold Janina and if the Bulgarians were in possession of Adrianople and the Montenegrins captured Scutari, the allies could be in a more advantageous position for dictating peace terms.

CONVENTION SURVIVORS.

Members of Body Gather at Their Second Banquet.

Richmond, Va., March 15.—The second meeting of the survivors of the Virginia Constitutional Convention of 1901-1902 began at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in a room on the sixth floor of the Jefferson hotel with a business meeting, at which accumulated business was wound up, officers elected, preparations for the banquet and a memorial to the departed members of the convention read. Charles V. Meredith, of Richmond, was elected president to succeed Henry C. Stuart, of Russell; William A. Anderson, of Lexington, succeeded Alexander Hamilton as vice president, and James W. Gordon, of Richmond, succeeded Jno. Thompson Brown, of Bedford,as secretary and treasurer.

The banquet was held in the Flemish room of the hotel at 8 o'clock, and lasted until shortly after midnight. Present were about half of the surviving members of the convention and an equal number of honorary and invited guests. Speakers on the program were selected from members and when these had closed, various other members were called upon for short talks. John S. Barbour, of Culpeper; Thomas Lee Moore, of Christiansburg; Hal D. Flood, of Appomattox; D. Tucker Brooke, of Norfolk, and Walter A. Watson, of Notoway, who were scheduled to make addresses were unable to be present and their places on the program were filled by extermoraneous speakers.

Governor William Hodges Mann responded to the toast "Virginia," in which he omitted all reference to the history of the State and spoke only of the present and its possibilities of the future. He recited as one result of the labors of the constitutional convention that it had enabled the state to collect a larger sum by taxation without increasing the rate.

ADMIRATION PROMPTS BEQUEST

Widow and Trustee to Act in Harmony With University.

Lexington, Va., March 15.—Prof. Henry Louis Smith, of Washington and Lee University, and Mr. William A. Anderson, a member of the University board of trustees and legal counsel of the University, have returned from New York, where they met the trustees representing the large bequest of Mr. Robert P. Doremus, whose will showed that he had made Washington and Lee University the beneficiary of his estate, valued at over $2,000,000. Dr. Smith and Mr. Anderson made the trip to New York on invitation of the trustees of the fund. They conferred with Mr. C. J. McDermott, counsel for the trustees, and also with Messrs. H. G. S. Noble and Charles L. Andrews, two of the trustees. They later saw Mrs. Doremus. The trustees are desirous of acting in the utmost harmony with the representatives of Washington and Lee University in the administration of the estate.

For the first time the motive influencing Mr. Doremus in leaving his large fortune to Washington and Lee was learned. His admiration for General Robert E. Lee prompted the gift. His sympathies were with the South and being without children he was desirous of leaving his estate for the greatest good. He decided that an educational institution in Virginia offered the most inviting field, and then followed an invitation of the merits of the various Virginia institutions of learning. While stopping at Warm Springs with his wife in 1908, Mr. Doremus visited Lexington and spent a few hours at Washington and Lee. He was much impressed with what he saw and decided that the school bearing the name of General Lee should receive his accumulations at his death.

Mrs. Doremus contemplates visiting Washington and Lee university in the not distant future.

JUMPS FROM HIGH WINDOW.

Colored Girl Will Probably Die as Result of Attempting to Escape.

Richmond, Va., March 15.—Frightened, it was alleged, as she was in the act of robbing the home of Miss Josephine Taylor, of 202 South 3rd street, where she was employed as a house girl, Texanna Green, colored, 13 years old, attempted to escape by leaping from a third-story window last night shortly after 8 o'clock. After falling nearly 40 feet she landed on a brick walk in the adjoining yard and was probably fatally injured.

The girl is said to have stolen a tin box, containing a small sum of cash and some valuable papers owned by Miss Taylor while she and other members of the household were dining away from home. Miss Taylor returned unexpectedly and the girl evidently heard her step upon the porch. She was in a bed room on the third floor, where the tin box was kept. Apparently alarmed and fearing detection she threw the box from the window, which she opened, and then jumped out.

DIED.

Mrs. Susan F. Turner, wife of Mr. John W. Turner, died at her residence Friday, 427 North Columbus street, after a short illness. Mrs. Turner was a native of Warrenton, Va. Besides her husband she is survived by six sons and two daughters. Funeral services will take place at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon from her late home.Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. F. Watson, pastor of the First Baptist Church assisted by Rev. G. A. Luttrell of Trinity M. E. Church. (Washington papers please copy.)

RESISTING THE ARMY INCREASE

Socialists Rioting in Paris—Nothing Serious, However, Yet.

COUNTER MOVEMENT.

Demand Alsace and Cry "Down With Jaurez"—Latter Socialist Leader in Chamber of Deputies.

Paris, March 15.—Socialist rioting, resulting from the measure proposing the army increase and the restoration of the three year compulsory military term, continued desultorily today, but no serious disturbances were reported.

At a socialist meting called for last night to protest against the bill five hundred "camelots of the king," members of a royalist organization, invaded the hall and started a counter-demonstration.

"We want Alsace. Down with Juarez," they shouted. Juarez is the socialist leader in the Chamber of Deputies.

The Socialists came back with cries against the army bill, and then they mixed but 400 policemen were on the job, and order was finally restored in the hall. Later the rioting continued in the streets.

Suffragettes on The Rampage.

A suffragette plot to wreck the great new water reservoir at Chingford, in the northeast of London, which King George is to open today was frustrated by the arrest last evening of a woman who was concealed in a recess of the works.

The great reservoir has an area of 416 acres and four and one half miles of embankment. Its excavation cost over $2,500,00. It is intended to supply about half of London.

The total of broken windows at the home office was added to yesterday afternoon, when Miss Marjorie Masters, a suffragette schoolteacher, threw a pot of green paint through one of them, scattering the liquid over the desks of several officials. She was arrested.

The latest exploit of the militant suffragettes in London is the obliteration of the names on the gateposts of houses in the residential streets. Armed with pots of tar and brushes, they raided the Richmond district early yesterday, disfiguring many houses.

London houses are distinguished solely by names, numbers not being used. The suffragettes' acts makes the identification of a particular house impossible and is sure to cause extensive annoyance.

The window-smashing campaign was also resumed yesterday morning in the jewelers' district in Bond street and in Holborn.

MURDER IN FIRST DEGREE.

Sussex Courthouse, Va., March 15.—The evidence in the case of the commonwealth against Emanuel Jackson, charged with murdering Andrew J. Dunn in October last, which has been set for trial in Sussex Circuit Court smce last Tuesday, was completed at six o'clock Thursday night.

The jury retired at 3:15 o'clock, and at 4:25 o'clock returned a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Judge West has not yet fixed the day for Jackson's electrocution.

Olney Declines.

Washington, March 15.—President Wilson today received a letter from Richard K. Olney, of Massachusetts, declining the ambassadorship to England which the President offered him and granted him several days in which to consider.

NEGRO'S LEG IS CRUSHED.

Clifton Reese, of Norfolk, truck by R. F. and P. Freight Train Last Night.

A Negro who gave his name as Clifton Reese, and Norfolk as his home, was carried to the Alexandria Hospital last night with his left leg crushed below the knee, he having been run over by a northbound Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac freight train at Seminary crossing, a short distance west of this city, between ten and eleven o'clock last night.

Drs. Dodd and Smith amputated the leg. Reese's right leg was found to be injured by the accident.

Reese was at the crossing with another negro when the former crossed the track without seeing the oncoming train.

The injured man was picked up by the train crew, brought to the Union station and as soon as possible conveyed to the hospital.

SUPPOSED MAD DOG.

Excitement on North Pitt Street This Morning.

A dog, suposed to be suffering from rabies, caused some consternation on Pitt street, near Cameron, this morning. William Duncan, who was near by at the time, struck the brute, partially stunning it, and a colored man attacked it with a stick. Officer Rawlett, who owed the dog, subsequently appeared and shot the animal.

Before it was killed the canine attacked a dog belonging to James Duncan. The latter took charge of his dog and picked it up and will keep it secure until an examination of the head of the dead dog shall have been made. Should it be shown that it was suffering from rabies, Mr. Duncan will dispatch his dog.

CASE CONTINUED.

It appears that the bulldog which bit Raymond Struder, the boy who subsequently died at the Alexandria Hospital, is still allowed to run at large. The owner has been cited to appear in the Police Court to answer the charge of allowing freedom to a vicious dog, and the latter has employed Leo. P. Harlow as counsel. Mr. Harlow is in Richmond and he has requested Justice Caton to continue the case until his return. Justice Caton this morning set the case for Monday, saying that as the dog was a menance to the community, the court would not wait for Mr. Harlow's return, and that the owner of the dog would be compelled to appear at the time set. In the meantime counsel will make arrangements for appearing himself or turning the case over to another lawyer.

POTOMAC LODGE.

At the regular meeting of Potomac Lodge of Odd Fellows held at their hall on north Columbus street last night, the initiatory Degree was conferred on three candidates, and a large volume of routine business transacted. The Lodge directed Captain W. L. Martin to hold a special meeting on next Tuesday evening for rehearsal of the degree work, when a large attendance of the membership is expected to attend.

MEN HELD UNTIL MONDAY.

Police Round up Quaternion on the Charge of Furnishing Liquor to a Boy

Sergeant Scott and Officers Roland, Bell and Talbott yesterday arrested Clyde Sullivan, Peter Hall, Harry Simms and James Moore on the charge of furnishing whisky to a fourteen-year-old boy, who was in a serious condition throughout last night from the effects of the liquor, so much that a man at whose house he is stopping, was kept up all night nursing the victim.

The boy was unable to appear in the Police Court this morning, and Justice Caton ordered the four men to be locked up until Monday.

Chief Goods testified that the quartette passed their time loitering about the northwestern section of the city, that they are confirmed dipsomanics and are generally found on the north side of the wall enclosing the Colross property.

BASE BALL MEETING.

A very important meeting of the Cardinal Athletic Club will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p. m., at the baseball park, weather permitting, otherwise at the residence of the President, S. A. Breen. It is earnestly requested that all interested in the well fare of the club be present, as all plans for the game of March 31st, will then be completed.

HORSE HAS LOCKJAW.

Lockjaw has developed in the horse of the Columbia Steam Fire Engine Co., which fell in turning a street corner while responding to an alarm of fire several days ago. The horse was very badly cut at the knee and was supposed to be getting along nicely under the treatment of Dr. Garvey. Yesterday, however, lockjaw developed. An injection of anti-toxin solution was at once administered, and last night and this morning three more injections of the serum were deemed necessary in the attempts to save the horse's life.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

St. Patrick's Day in Alexandria on Monday wil be observed by two celebrations. The Ancient Order of Hibernians will hold a meeting in Lyceum Hall at 8 o'clock which will be open to the members of the order and ther friends. A musical program has been arranged and there will be several speeches.

Alexandria Lodge of Elks will give a social session in honor of the day.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS.

At a meeting of Washington Memorial Lodge of Perfection, Scottish Rite Masons, which was held last night in Masonic Temple, the following officers were elected: Frank M. Latham, venerable master; A. A. Paul, senior warden; H. Noel Garner, junior warden; W. H. Bontz, orator; William G. LeHew, almoner; James E. King, secretary and J. M. Duncan, treasurer.

Easter Displays of Boys' Suits Offer Every Advantage for Selection.

New Easter suits how many features of especial interest to the boys, and we urge upon them the necessity of coming in early with their parents to get the choicest selection. There is much satisfaction in choosing at the very beginning of the season, when every advantage possible is offered.

Norfolks predominate—Every boy dressing according to the late styles will wear a Norfolk single-breasted, cut loose or close fitting, with regular or patch pockets, full-plaited, half-plaited, yoke models, and those without plaits; full-belted, half-belted, and semi-belted. Enough variety in styles to suit every idea.

Range of fabrics and colorings and patterns just as interesting, and even broader than the variety of models. Plain blue serges, whipcord and diagonal weaves; self and fancy striped blues; also grays, tans, browns and mixtures in the usual fancy patterns, and many novelties. Colored mixtures are prominent; new and handsome designs. Sizes 8 to 18.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

CONSPIRACY TO MURDER COURT.

Clansmen Had Agreed That Not One Should Ever Go to the Penitentiary.

Richmond, Va., March 15.—That there existed a definite and well planned conspiracy to shoot up the United States Circuit Court at Greensboro, N. C., when Sidna Allen was on trial for counterfeiting that would have proven as successful as the Hillsville horror had this clansmen been convicted, is established by the testimony of a Baptist minister to whom Sidna Allen boastingly told of the clan agreement the day he was acquitted.

To this minister, who then had the charge at Mount Airy, and who met Sidna Allen on the train, homeward bound, on the day he was acquitted, the acknowledged leader of the clan declared that it was a good thing for the court that he was acquitted.

Pressed for an explanation, Sidna Allen said:

"My brothers were in court and if I had been convicted Judge Boyd and Attorney Holton would have been shot dead."

Thinking it simply a boastful remark, the minister remonstrated with Allen, but the latter replied:

"We had our guns with us, and Judge Boyd would never have lived to sentence me, for my brothers and I have made an agreement that not one of us shall ever go to the penitentiary.

The minister to whom this undying defiance of the law was made on the part of the Allen clan was Rev. Edward R. Carter, who is now pastor of the leading Baptist Church of Newbern, N. C. Rev. Mr. Carter took no part in any of the trials and kept his own counsel until after Governor Mann had rendered his final decision in the cases. Then he wrote the executive a letter commending him for his action, and stating that Governor Mann had made no error in allowing the law to take its course, and he had arrived at this conclusion from long acquaintance with the Allen gang.

The letter was not given out by Governor Mann, but by a friend of the executive after the Rev. Mr. Carter had written explaining that his letter to Governor Mann was intended to be open to the public.

The letter follows:

The Baptist Parsonage,
..New Bern, N C.,
March 7, 1913.

To Governor Mann, Richmond, Va.:

Hon. and Dear Sir,—I have just learned through the press that you have decided that the sentences imposed against Floyd Allen and his son, for murder must be carried out. Now that your decision has been reached, if the paper reports are correct, I desire to say that I have been acquainted, with the Allen gang for some time, and most heartily concur in your decision. I am now pastor of the First Baptist Church of New Bern, N. C., but at the time Sidna Allen was tried for counterfeiting in Greensboro, I was the minister at Mount Airy, and the day he was acquitted, I returned to the latter city on the same train with Sidna Allen. We engaged in conversation about the trial, and in response to a remark I made about the narrow escape he had from a penitentiary sentence, he said: "Yes it was a mighty close call, but it was a d——good thing for the court that I was acquitted.' I asked him why, and he said: "My brothers were in court and if I had been convicted Judge Boyd, and Attorney Holton would have been shot dead." Thinking it was simply a beautful remark I suggeste that he would not have attempted any such thing, to which he replied: "We had our guns with us, and Judge Boyd would never have lived to sentence me, for my brothers and I have made an agreement that not one of us shall ever go to the penitentiary." Seeing I looked somewhat skeptical, he insisted that he meant every word he said. I write this, because I know you were desirous of doing everything you could for these two men, and of showing them mercy had there been any way to do so. About the son I know nothing, and until this sad affair had never heard a thing against him. My only object in writing this is to cause you to feel that you have made no error in deciding that the law must take its course.

If I have erred in writing you, I trust you will pardon me.

I remain, Hon and dear sir,
Yours sincerely,
EDWARD T. CARTER,
Baptist Minister.

AGREED TO EXCHANGE WIVES.

But Husbands' Fight Over Children Prevents Swapping.

Lynchburg, Va., March 15.—Agreeing to exchange wives and with the full consent of both consorts, but failing to agree over the three children of the Alvis family, J. W. Alvis and John Inge, both white men, came to blows that landed the pair in the hands of the city authorities on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Some time ago the men engaged in an altercation over Alvis' alleged friendliness for Mrs. Inge, which resulted in Inge's arrest. After being bailed and before the trial the bargain was made to swap wives, the wives were notified and the agreement was agreeable to them. But both of the Inges wanted to retain their children; then the husbands fell out and the story leaked.

Garnett Allen Acquitted.

Roanoke, Va., March 15.—Garnett Allen, tried in the Hillsville court on the same charge of which his uncle, Floyd Allen, was convicted and sentenced to serve a year in the penitentiary, an which provoked the Hillsville tragedy of a year ago yesterday, was acquitted by a Carroll jury late Thursday afternoon.

Judge Campbell, sitting in the case, ordered all the witnesses and spectators should be searched for firearms before entering the courtroom.

Woman Jumps Into Bay.

Norfolk, Va., March 15.—Mrs. Mary Keating, a well-dressed woman, giving Boston as her home, jumped into the bay here yesterday. A negro delivery wagon driver rescued her. She will recover.

TO SAIL FOR CHESAPEAKE.

Atlantic Fleet Leaves Guantanamo Next Monday.

Washington, March 15.—It has been practically decided at the Navy Department that two of the four battleships now stationed on the east coast of Mexico shall be kept there when the Atlantic fleet sails from Guantanamo, Cuba, for the Chesapeake Bay next Monday. Rear Admiral Fletcher or Rear Admiral Usher will be left to command the ships, whose stay will be dependent upon conditions in Mexico.

On the way up the coast the fleet will indulge in a war game, plans for which have been prepared by the Naval War College and the general board. The ships are due in the Chesapeake March 22, and after a Sunday rest will proceed at once to target practice, using the wreck of the old battleship San Marcos in spotting practice. Secretary Daniels expects to witness the test.

FINED FOR LAUGHING.

Marylander Had to Pay $1 in Corporation Court of Danville.

Danville, Va., March 15.—It cost J. W. Nishaw, a resident of Baltimore, Md., but a spectator a few days ago in the Corporation Court proceedings, just $1 for indulging in a laugh while Attorney B. H. Custer was making appeal for the liberty of John R. Hutson, Apparently, there was something in the lawyer's talk that tickled the humor of the Marylander, and suddenly a loud tehee and then a ha-ha-ha caused a general craning of necks by other spectators to see what was the excitement.

Sergeant P. H. Boisseau made for Mr. Nishaw and told him to keep quiet, but he failed, and Judge Peatness had the man brought before him. A fine of $1 was levied for contempt of a Virginia court of justice, but the greenback failed to emerge from the man's pockets and Mr. Boisseau led him gently over to the pen. Then the court procedure continued.

The man's predicament melted the heart of another spectator, who made his way to the pen and slipped him the necessary semolean for release. A radiant smile and effusive thanks were the deliverer's reward.

NEW CAPE HENRY FORT.

Secretary Garrison Appoints a Committee to Locate It.

Washington, March 5.—Secretary Garison has appointed as a board to plan and locate the new coast defense post at Cape Henry, Va., recently authorized by Congress, Major General William W. Wotherspoon, assistant chief of staff; Col. Edward Burr and Lieutenant Colonel E. E. Winslow, Corps of Engineers, and Majors Geo. Blakely and Wiliam Chamberlaine.

The board will meet in Washington upon the call of the senior member and proceed to Cape Henry, where buildings and fortifications will be planned for the acommodations of a garrison of four companies of Coast Artillery.

Army engineers believe that the new post with the existing fortifications at Fort Monroe and at Cape Charles will effectualy protect Chesapeake Bay.

NUMBER OF DOGS REDUCED.

Mayor's Proclamation Having Good Effect in Fredericksburg.

Fredericksburg, March 15.—The proclamation of Mayor Rowe in regard to dogs is having good effect, and has resulted in ridding the city of a number of dogs already. On Tuesday five were dispatched to the happy hunting-ground, two being killed at the request of the owners.

ANOTHER VIEW OF THE SUFFRAGETTE PARADE.

While it is true that practically all the women who were connected with the suffragette parade on March 3d, have been most severe in their condemnation of Major Sylvester, superintendent of the Washington police, there are some who do not lay the blame entirely at his door. Among this number is Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, president of the National Council of Women, whose home is in this city, who has written Major Sylvester the following letter:

"I am just home from New York, where I have been laid up with a severe cold ever since the suffrage parade and I see from the daily papers that the controversy in regard to the police protection of March 3rd is still raging. I want to say to you that no persons are in a better position to known the true inwardness of police systems than those who are in touch with the scarlet woman. If a man in your position is going to be unfaithful to his duties, he usually begins with them and not in denying police protection to a large and influential body of women.

"I was in Washington all of the time of the parade and sat just opposite the New Willard. Certainly the congestion was terrific and there was practically no place for the parade to pass. At the same time if the police had attempted to drive the people back after they had gotten packed in the street at least an hour in advance of the parade, I do not see where they could have been driven as every inch of the space was occupied. The crowd was exceedingly good natured and as far as I could see, if not in sympathy with the marchers, were at least good naturedly tolerant. Everybody was out for a good time and even the so called disrespectful remarks that were hurled at the procession, were invariably in the line of good natured chaff.

"To attempt to draw a comparison between the conditions existing on March 3rd and 4th, is to my mind most illogical. Every one knows that the morale of a crowd and the psychological influence of it are a great deal more than all of the external forces. On March 3rd the crowd was out for a lark, even many of the participants laughed and joked about it when they went to take their places. This was brought about, not because they did not feel an interest in suffrage, but that they were doing something daring and a little out of the ordinary, in taking part in a public parade. Many seriously minded persons were somewhat similarly affected.

"On the 4th it was a serious proposition to everybody. The chief executive of the nation was to be inaugurated. It was not necessary for any one to preach to them enmasse the solemness and dignity of the occasion—everybody felt it. The police were entirely accustomed to managing a crowd like that of March 4th—they were absolutely unaccustomed to managing a crowd like that or March 3rd—because none ever gathered anywhere. It was cosmopolitan and composed largely of people of culture and even the most rowdy element in it were the best class of rowdies. Because even when the most representative political club sends a delegation to Washington to inauguration, or when one comes as an individual, they are distinctly above the mass of their associates at home.

"I do not know if there is any reason for me to write you this long dissertation. I suppose you know these facts much more than I do but I want you know that I realize them also. I am an ardent suffragette and two of my daughters were in the parade. I have watched your career with profound interest and admiration and I want to say that I saw nothing in your attitude, or that of the police that in any wise lowers you in my estimation as a gentleman or as chief of police of our Capitol City."

STORMS AND DEATHS PREVAILED YESTERDAY.

The main feature of the newspapers today has been the terrible havoc wrought by the elements in the southern and western sections of the country.

Widespread storms of cyclonic intensity, sweeping over the Middle West and the South, cut their way through towns and cities of five states, snuffed out more than ninety lives, made hundreds homeless and destroyed property valued high in the millions.

Other sections of the country from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and the Eastern Seaboard to the Rockies were swept by gales, rain and snow.

Reports from Nashville and Memphis tell of cyclones half a mile wide sweeping through five counties, tumbling over scores of houses, brushing a dozen towns and killing twenty persons.

Many towns have been cut off from the world, and in sections of four states thousands of telephone and telegraph wires are prostrated.

A wealthy Chicago man, was killed by lightning near Forest Wharf, St. Mary's county, Md.

The storm took its heaviest toll of life in Alabama, Tennessee and northwestern Georgia.—Property loss in Illinois estimated at $100,000 Other sections of country from the Great Lakes to the Gulf and the Eastern Seaboard to Rockies were swept by gales, rain and snow.

ARRESTED AT HIS HOME.

Nineteen-Year-Old Youth Charged With Illicit Sale of Whiskey.

Woodstock, Va., March 15.—On Monday afternoon United States Deputy Marshal Brown reached Woodstock on the afternoon train, hired a carriage and drove with a deputized officer to Trout Run Valley, W. Va., where they captured William Ridenour aged nineteen years, charged with illicit manufacture and sale of intoxicants. Officer Brown captured young Ridenour during the night at the Ridenour home without any struggle, and started on the return trip to Woodstock, reaching here Tuesday at noon and leaving with the prisoner for Martinsburg.

Young Ridenour is a son of T .A. Ridenour, who only two months ago was taken to Martinsburg on a similar charge, but there not being sufficient evidence to warrant holding him for the grand jury he was released.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Singers Glen People's Narrow Escape Near Burtner Mill.

Harrisonburg, Va., March 15.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Swope, of the Singers Glen neighborhood, had a narrow escape from being seriously injured a few days ago, when a double team they were driving became frightened at a traction engine in the road at Fairview Church, near Burtner's Mill. The buggy was upset, the top torn off and the tongue broken. Mr. Swope managed to keep the horses under control, however, and neither he nor his wife was injured, though the buggy collided with a two-horse team belonging to Gasner Messick, before the frightened horse were brought to a standstill. Mr. Swope procured a buggy-tongue and continued the journey to Dayton to visit his brother, Peter Swope.

SMILES.

By The Second Ward Bard.

DOWN IN THE NORTHERN NECK.

I'm thinking today of a picturesque land,
Down in the Northern Neck,
Of the tidewater country where rivers surround,
The peninsula regin where yet may be found
The places where names of the great still abound.
Down in the Northern Neck.

A touch of the old-times is lingering there,
Down in the Northern Neck,
From the borders of Stafford, down on to the Bay,
The folks are all living in just the same way,
That their forefathers lived in some long by-gone day,
Down in the Northern Neck.

They're far from the rush and the whirl of the crowd,
Down in the Northern Neck,
And they're still just as courteous, gentle and kind
As the folks in the days before everyone pined
For the life of the city, this wish you'll not find,
Down in the Northern Neck.

And so I am thinking of that land today,
Down in the Northern Neck,
A breath from its pine-woods and shore-lands so fair
Is wafted to me by the sprites of the air,
And I'd just like to visit a bit way down there,
Down in the Northern Neck.

If the Second Ward Bard is less than six feet tall, is Dr. Sam Moore?

If twelve o'clock noon is broad day light, is Bob Knight?

If one of his Sunday school girls misbehaved, would Superintendent Leadbeater?

Allenists yesterday examined the first "crank" of the Wilson administration. The man gave his name as Dr. Charles A. Schwab, of Dallas, Texas. He is being detained in the Washington asylum, in which institution he was placed Tuesday when arrested by Secret Service men on his arrival in Washington. The man said he was on his way to the White house to be sworn in as President and he had in his possession a number of written messages purporting to have been sent to him by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court. It is believed that he wrote them himself.

A New Kind of Roofing

Asphalt Gravel That Will Last Ten Years—Can be Used Anywhere.

Cumberland, Md. — Among the many improvements at the new Y. M. C. building is the asphalt gravel roof (Security brand) that was put on under direction of Mr. Adam May.

A fairy tale is told about this roofing by Mr. A. M. Strickland, of Elkton, Md. About fifteen years ago he built the Elkton Foundry and covered the roof with Security Asphalt Gravel roofing and four years afterward the building and contents were consumed by fire. Nothing was left but the walls and roofing.

Being of an economical turn of mind he ordered the carpenters to cut down the roofing in strips, losing only the laps.

He used these strips of roofing on the new foundry building and it is in good condition today after ten years of active service.

It would be difficult to believe such a tale, because tin, iron and slate or any other composition roofing would have gone to smash or curled up and blown away in such a conflagration.

There is reason to believe that this true, because it stood the test in a similar fire in the B. & O. hay shed at Mt. Clare Station, Baltimore, some years ago.

This roofing can be purchased of

FELT BAD ALL THE TIME

Shellhorn Lady Suffered a Great Deal, But Is All Right Now.

Shellhorn, Ala.—In a letter from this place, Mrs. Carrie May says: "A short time ago, I commenced to have weak spells and headaches. I felt bad all the time, and soon grew so bad I couldn't stay up. I thought I would die.

At last my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and it helped me; so he got some more. After I had taken the second bottle, I was entirely well.

I wish every lady, suffering from womanly trouble, would try Cardui. It is the best medicine I know of. It did me more good than anything I ever used."

Cardui is a woman's tonic—a strengthening medicine for women, made from ingredients that act specifically on the womanly organs, and thus help to build up the womanly constitution to glowing good health.

As a remedy for woman's ills, it has a successful record of over 50 years.

Your druggist sells it. Please try it.

Granted Insurance After Consumption

There are so many cases of "Consumption reported where the details show the disease started with a cold or a cough, that it is really surprising that people are not more anxious to immediately stop these apparently minor troubles. Our advice is "stop the cough or cold, if possible, without delay." Other wise more serious troubles are likely to follow. If the medicines you are now taking do not bring relief, try Eckman's Alterative, as this man did:

237 Jean St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: I am giving you below a brief history of my case, which I trust you will use for the benefit of those suffering from any similar troubles.

"About a year and a half ago I noticed that my health was rapidly failing, and at the end of six months my weight had fallen to 129 pounds. I was troubled with night sweats, a severe cough and was very weak, having in fact absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consulted a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who after examining me said that I was in the first stages of consumption. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alterative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my cough became looser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has pronounced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by Eckman's Alterative. I should be very glad to communicate with any one who would be interested in my case.

(Sworn Affidavit) W. E. GEE.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

Two Societies Raise Fund For Statue To Maid of Orleans

After a spirited though peaceful controversy the associations which exist for the purpose of commemorating the life of Joan of Arc chose New York as the place for a $30,000 statue of her.

It had been contended by one large faction that Washington would be the proper place for the big memorial. It is just possible that a monument may also be placed in that city at some future time.

The organizations backing the project are the Joan of Arc statue committee and Le Lyceum Societe des Femmes de France a New York.

Jan. 6 was the five hundredth anniversary of the birth of this famous heroine. Patriotic French people all over the world on that day held commemorative exercises. In recent years belated credit has been developed for the name of the Maid of Orleans, and many cities have established monuments in her honor. Two popular figures of the heroine are presented in the accompanying picture. Rodin will design the New York statue. It will be dedicated to the women of America.

Joan of Arc, or, more properly, Joannetta Darc, afterward known in France as Jeanne d'Arc, the Maid of Orleans, was born Jan. 6, 1412, in Domremy, France. Joan never learned to read and write. Through the influence of her mother, who had made a pilgrimage to Rome, she spent much of her time in solitude and prayer.

When thirteen she constantly talked of seeing visions and hearing angels' voices, which told her to restore happiness to France and give aid to Charles VII., the weak hearted dauphin, whose place was in jeopardy. These visions, together with the prophecy current in Lorraine that the kingdom lost by a woman (Queen Isabella) should be saved by a virgin, helped to define her mission.

Joan put on masculine dress and a suit of white armor, mounted a black charger and bore a banner of her own device, white, embroidered with lilies, on one side a picture of God enthroned on clouds, on the other the shield of France supported by two angels, together with a pennon representing the annunciation. Her sword she declared would be found beneath the altar in the Church of St. Catherine at Fiebois.

Thus equipped she put herself at the head of an army of 6,000 men and advanced to the aid of Dunois, in the relief of hard pressed Orleans. She threw herself upon the English and fired the fainting hearts of the French with a new enthusiasm. The hardened soldiers stopped swearing and gave up their debauchery under her pure presence. After fifteen days' fighting the English were compelled to retreat. The French spirit again awoke, the enemy was swept from the principal positions of the Loire, the village girl urged on the dauphin to his coronation, and three months later she stood beside Charles at Rheims, saluting him as king.

Dunois prevailed upon her to remain with the army, but her victories were over. She failed to carry Paris. Other exploits followed. Left behind by her men, she was taken prisoner and was sold to the English by John of Luxembourg. Carried to Rouen, the headquarters of the English, she was heavily fettered and flung in a gloomy prison. The English, who had carried with them the tale of terror at the strange witchcraft by which they thought they had been overcome, now had their turn. Joan was tried for sorcery and convicted. The papers were sent to Paris, and the verdict of the University of Paris was unanimous that such acts and sentiments as hers were diabolical and merited burning at the stake.

In the market place of Rouen, surrounded by the soldiers and ecclesiastics, Joan of Arc, the spotless Maid of Orleans, martyr to her country and her king, was burned May 30, 1431.

MUST HAVE BEEN DRUNK

Seemed Only Plausible Explanation of Conduct of Man on New York Train.

At Matawan the New York bound train, pretty well filled with passengers, took on a number more, among them a family of eight—stout mother, stout aunt and six children. The children ranged in age from a baby in arms to a youngster of eight or nine years. There were few vacant seats in the car into which this family party trailed, and the stout mother, with her youngest in her arms, and the stout aunt, carrying a large bundle, managed to squeeze into two unoccupied places, leaving the children to shift for themselves.

Along toward the middle of the car sat a small, shabby, kind-faced man who, observing that the five children were standing about unsteadily in the car aisle, arose smilingly and went to their rescue. With much difficulty he succeeded in finding seats for the youngsters, giving up his own place to two of them and standing in the aisle himself.

"Funny about that man takin' so much trouble gettin' the children seats," observed the stout mother to the stout aunt.

"Yes," was the reply; "I've been looking at him. I guess he must be drunk."

HOW THEY DO IN RUSSIA

Sixty-Seven Persons Are Tried Behind Closed Doors and Given Prison Sentences.

"They do things in a strange way in Russia," says a letter in the Russische Korrespondenz from a correspondent in Warsaw. "Behind closed doors sixty-seven members of the Polish Socialist party were tried. After a session of ten days it became known that ten of the accused were dismissed, twenty-five of the remaining fifty-seven were sentenced to deportation and prison sentences were pronounced against the remaining thirty-two in terms ranging from seventeen years to two years eight months. In all, 279 years of prison service was dealt out, to say nothing of the twenty-five unfortunates who were deported. And all this behind closed doors."

Britain's Strange Sect.

The Jezreelites of Gillingham, in Kent, England, have once more been brought prominently before the public in the old country. The founder of this strange sect, which is but little known in these days, was a certain James White, a private in the Sixteenth regiment, who, on his conversion, took the names of "James Jershom Jezreel." White gathered enthusiasts round him and, like the early Christians, the Jezreelites had all things in common. It was a principle of the sect that its members were the first portion of the 144,000, twice told, who shall receive Christ when he appears to reign on earth. Shortly after the foundation of the sect, "Jezreel" and his followers commenced to build a huge temple, intended to hold 20,000 people, near Chatham. "Jezreel" died in 1885, and the work was never completed, but the temple—tenantless and bare—survives today as a memento of one of the maddest of modern dreams.

Wanted It Anyhow.

There recently sought the services of a dentist a quaint young Swede, who, at the urgent insistence of his newly-acquired wife, came to "get his mouth fixed."

There were a number of teeth too far gone to be filled. Accordingly, these were extracted, and then the dentist made an appointment with the Swede for further sittings, when the filling would be done. Instead of leaving the office Olaf hung about expectantly.

"Is there something more you want done?" finally asked the dentist.

"Vell, I dunno," said Olaf, looking doubtfully at the ceiling. "I tank maybe I like leedle gas. My meesis tole me I hov to tak some for my toots. Eef she don' hort too moch I tank maybe I better hov about twanty-fi' cants wort'."

"Humbug" Spreading Out.

"Once upon a time," writes an American woman from Munich, "the humbug was looked upon as a strictly American product. With its habitat in the land of Uncle Sam, the echo of its 'hum' might sometimes reach beyond the sea, but the bug itself, it was supposed, could never live and thrive except in the country which had produced the wooden nutmeg, Cardiff giant and the army of worthless mine promoters. But the humbug has become an institution in Germany, and some American tourists who climb mountains incautiously will realize the fact when the edelweiss which they took home as proof of their deeds is discovered to be a sham, made in this city, with intent to deceive."

Cleopatra's Pearl.

Most persons know the story that is told of Cleopatra to illustrate her luxurious habits of living—that she dissolved in her wine a precious pearl. No one seems yet to have questioned what must have been the effect upon the drink, but scientists scoff at the possibility of such solution.

The fact is pearls are not soluble in wine. The most powerful vinegar affects them slowly, and never entirely dissolves them, for the organic matter remains behind, in the shape of a spongy mass that is larger than the original pearl.

RUN OVER BY TRAIN.

Young Petersburg Citizen Victim of Accident.

Richmond, March 15.—A telegram received from Lynchburg brought the information that James Sterling Connelly, a young man of this city, was run over by a Norfolk and Western train there Wednesday night, and that both of his legs were crushed. He was attempting to board the train and fell beneath the wheels. The young man has a wife living in this city.

WOMAN ARRESTED.

Robbed Purses in Churches—Formerly in Insane Asylum at Staunton.

New York, March 1.—Five women's pocketbooks, empty and a beautiful child, a boy, fifteen months old, were found in a room of the Flanders Hotel Thursday by headquarters detectives following the arrest at St. Leo's Roman Catholic Church of a woman who had registered at the Flanders Hotel several weeks ago as Mrs. Randolph Fitzhugh, of Washington, D. C., and who is said to have been an inmate of the asylum at Staunton, Va.

Albert Church informed Deputy Commissioner Dougherty soon after the woman's arrest that she had returned to him a gold mesh bag, the property of Miss Dorothy W. Fisk, and worth about $500, which was taken from Miss Fisk's muff in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church on February 2d.

While the thefts of women's purses in churches here was under investigation, the police received from Washington the record of Catherine Gennell, alias Fitzhugh, suspected of having stolen a purse containing $90 from a worshiper in St. Patrick's Church there. The report stated that Mrs. Fitzhugh had been previously arrested for obtaining goods on false pretenses from department stores, but was found to be mentally defective and sent to an asylum.

She was released last January, it read, and the church theft followed soon afterward. It reported that Mrs. Fitzhugh had left Washington for New York.

After having been placed under arrest the prisoner said:

"I come from Virginia," the woman said, "and I have the sweetest baby alive right now in the Flanders Hotel with nobody to look after him."

At the hotel it was stated that a maid there had been caring for the child during the long hours the mother was absent.

Mrs. Fitzhugh is quite pretty, slender, and with dark eyes and hair. She said she was twenty-eight years old. She gesticulates when she talks. Griffith said that she had created a sensation in the Church of the Incarnation a few days ago, returning there after she had left it, and wildly demanding to know what had become of "that tall man with dark hair and moustache." This was not explained.

WILL WAGE WAR ON FLIES.

Norfolk School Children in Campaign to Make "Spotless Town."

Norfolk, Va., March 15.—Now that the City School Board has approved, the plan proposed by the Norfolk Sanitary League, steps will be taken without delay to enlist 10,000 school children in the campaign to make Norfolk a "Spotless Town." They will be instructed in the "art" of killing flies and mosquitoes, of locating their breeding places, and a dozen other things that will help in the cause.

Dr. C. P. Wertenbaker, surgeon in charge of the United States Public Health Service here, who has been active in the formation of the league, appeared before the School Board and explained the details of the organization, assuring the trustees that the work would not interfere with the studies of the papils. He also put into their hands the pledge which the children are to sign.

THE TEST THAT TELLS.

Is The Test of Time. Many Alexandria People Have Made This Tet.

Years ago this Alexandria citizen told in a public statement the benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills.

The statement is now confirmed—the testimony complete. Instances like this are numerous. They doubly prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills. Can any Alexandria reader demand more convincing proof? It's Alexandria testimony—it may be investigated.

Mrs. Anine Scott, 110 Prince street, strong friend to Doan's Kidney Pills Alexandria, Va., says: "I am the same today, as I was in 1910 when I publicly told of the cure they had made for me. This cure has been lasting, but I occasionally use Doan's Kidney Pills as a preventive. I had pains in my back and I could not rest well. In the morning I always felt tired and worn out, and I also had dizzy spells. Doan's Kidney Pills did such good world that it is a pleasure to recommend them to other kidney sufferers."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.
